ALARM ON TRAM

Windows Shattered Near Blackpool

Passengers returning from Fleetwood by one of the Blackpool Corporation luxury tramcars last night had an alarming experience.

As the car was travelling past the engine sheds in Copse-road, the trolley left the overhead wire and came in violent contact with one of the standards. The trolley head then swung on to the side of the car, smashing two of the windows.

People escaped injury from flying glass, although one woman complained of a shock.

The car was disabled and the passengers were transferred to another vehicle.

Beware of This Blackpool Plant

A plant standing 8ft. high was this week installed in the Blackpool Town Hall, a few yards from the Mayor's Parlour. It is lovely to look at and emits an aroma resembling that of incense.

The natural desire of those who pass is to touch it and inhale the scent. But by doing so they run the danger of a temporary affection of the eyes and a mild form of skin infection.

The plant was brought from Stanley Park earlier in the week in the usual way for decorative purposes at the Town Hall.

SOUTHPORT REMAND

Story of Alleged Fraudulent Conversion

Arthur Sumner, whose address was given as Wickham-road, Brockley, London, was remanded on bail until August 7th by Southport magistrates to-day, accused of fraudulently converting to his own use between November 1st and November 27th last £12 16s. 8d. entrusted to him by the Southport and District Parks Bowling League.

Mr. K. Seddon, who prosecuted and applied for the remand, said Sumner was secretary of the bowling league and was commissioned to obtain goods from shopkeepers for prizes at a whist drive promoted by the League. He was given money to pay for the prizes and the charge arose out of the fact that he did not pay over the money to the shopkeepers who had supplied the goods. Mr. Seddon added that one of the shopkeepers was away and would not be available until August 7th.

Morecambe Man's Injuries

Leading cases on to a motor lorry owned by Mr. N. A. Birkett, his employer, of Thornton-road, Morecambe, last night, near Poulton 'bus station, James Bird, of 5, Nelson-street, Morecambe, was struck by one of the cases which tilted over. He was knocked from the lorry to the ground, and broke his leg. He was taken in the ambulance to the Morecambe Queen Victoria Hospital, where he is detained.

BLACKPOOL PILOT FINED £20

Four Hurt by Aerial

EARL BATEMAN FIELDEN, of Stanley Park Aerodrome, Blackpool, was fined £20, with £5 10s. 6d. costs, at Tamworth, yesterday, for flying an aeroplane to cause unnecessary danger.

Four people, it was stated, were injured by a wireless aerial which dragged behind Fielden's machine as he dived near a field in which there was an aerial display, with which he was not connected.

Mr. A. Goodfellow (defending) said Fielden wound in the aerial before putting the machine into a gentle dive, and passed over the audience at 50 to 100 feet. He flew away without knowing that damage had been done. At Blackpool it was discovered that part of the aerial was missing. A piece of mechanism had broken.

SPARKLING VARIETY

Song, Dance, and Laughter at Morecambe Winter Gardens

Sparkling variety is presented at the Winter Gardens, Morecambe, this week, with Harry Welchman, the famous actor-vocalist topping the bill. His splendid voice of such wide range is heard to advantage in a selection of popular songs, including "Smiling Thro'," "Bachelor Gay," and principal numbers from "Rose Marie," and "The Desert Song," in which he scored such a success as the Red Shadow.

Graceful yet amazing is the performance of the dancers, The Diamond Sisters, who seem to be able to twist and untwist without the slightest effort. Bell and Little appear in a new type of turn, and Russell, Marconi and Verona are a trio whose quaint musical efforts cause uproarious laughter. Stevenson dancers are the two Madisons and Marion, while "Skeets" Martin keeps the audience in a good humour with his fun-making and clever mimicry. The Cavalier Brothers provide something original in acrobatic feats.

PIT TO BE REOPENED

Once Employed Many Chorley Men

Blainscough Hall Colliery, Coppull, near Chorley, is to be reopened in the near future. Preliminary tests have been carried out and it has been found that there is still plenty of coal. Many Chorley men were employed at the mine before it closed down six years ago. Only a few hands will be started at first but it is hoped to increase the number at a later period. The colliery has been taken over by Mr. Oliver Hart, Blainscough Hall, a local 'bus proprietor and haulage contractor, and Mr. J. Johnston of Ormskirk.

PRESTON TO HAVE MORE BELISHA BEACONS

29 Extra Sets To Be Erected

PRESTON is to have 29 more sets of Belisha Beacons.

In the absence of the Chief Constable (Mr. J. P. Kee-Watson) this information was given to a "Lancashire Daily Post" reporter this morning by Supt. H. Garth.

At a Preston inquest, yesterday, on a little girl who was knocked down and killed by a motor coach in Garstang-road, on Sunday, the foreman of the jury remarked that the jury would like to recommend that in some way more protection should be provided at that point either from the police or a beacon.

The Coroner (Colonel H. Parker) endorsed this recommendation.

Supt. Garth said, to-day: "The Chief Constable recommended the erection of the beacons as far back as February, and sanction has been received from the Ministry of Transport." The ordinary pedestrian crossings have been in evidence for some time," he added, "and we already have about half a dozen sets of beacons at various points in the town."

The beacons are in the course of erection, and in addition to those at the junction of Garstang-road and St. George's-road (where Sunday's fatality occurred) beacons will be put up, among other places, across Fishergate at the junctions at Corporation-street, and Lune-street, across Church-street at the junction of Church-street and Manchester-road, across Market-street near the Post Office, across Blackpool-road, near the cemetery entrance, Fylde-road and London-road will also be similarly served.

BURNLEY MYSTERY

Missing Girl Last Seen at Padiham

There is still no news of the 14-year-old Burnley girl, Elizabeth Washington, 54, Carter-street, who, as reported in the "Lancashire Daily Post" yesterday, has been missing since Sunday evening.

The Burnley police have carried out an extensive search in the district and questioned a number of the girl's acquaintances. The police stated this morning that they had succeeded in getting in touch with the man with whom she was seen to leave Brierfield Park at 9 25 on Sunday evening. They have also interviewed another man who states that he was in the girl's company until midnight and that he left her at Padiham. After that time her movements are unknown.

Blackburn Reveller Fined at Blackpool

A fine of 10s. was imposed at Blackpool to-day on Samuel Pickup (40), a weaver, of Mill Hill, Blackburn, for being drunk and incapable on Central Railway Station, Blackpool, last night. Pickup, when charged, replied: "I must have been drunk. I don't remember anything."

The clerk: Do you know where you are now? Pickup, after glancing round the court, replied: "I have an idea now."

The Chief Constable (Mr. H. E. Denham) said: "The rooms downstairs are so nice that they sometimes don't realise they are in a police station."

A constable stated that Pickup was so drunk that he was unable to walk or speak.

Mrs. Ada Herman, aged 28, of Waterloo-road, Manchester, collapsed and died on a lonely path at Bank Top, near Radcliffe, Lancashire, yesterday.

ABYSSINIAN DISPUTE

Japanese Press Accuse Italy of Systematic Plot

TOKIO, Wednesday.

"The Italian Press is indulging in a systematic plot to develop the Abyssinian dispute into a general conflict between the coloured and white races," declares the Asahi Shimbun, in an inspired article this morning.

In this way, the paper adds, Italy is endeavouring to force Britain and France to support her. Japan, meanwhile, is merely watching developments with calm and caution. The Japanese Press on the whole is calm, because, according to the Foreign Office spokesman, it considers that news from a country under a Dictator carries little weight. Japan, the spokesman added, will appoint a minister in Addis Ababa in January.—Reuter.

Archbishops' Joint Appeal to League of Nations

The following message has been sent to M. Avenol, Secretary-General of the League of Nations, by the Archbishop of Canterbury and the Archbishop of Upsala:—

"Convinced that we are speaking in the name of multitudes of Christian people throughout the world, we appeal to the Council of the League of Nations to make every possible effort to secure a peaceful settlement of the dispute between Italy and Abyssinia and to prevent the outbreak of a war between two members of the League which would shock the conscience of the world.

"COSMO CANTUAR, Archbishop of Canterbury.
"ERLING EIDEM, Archbishop of Upsala."

A united appeal in this way by the head of the Anglican Communion and the Primate of the Church of Sweden—the leading ecclesiastic in the Lutheran Church—is unprecedented. The Archbishop of Upsala has taken a very strong initiative in the peace question, as also has the Archbishop of Canterbury.

NURSE BOUND OVER

Charge of Theft at Southport Police Court

"We are very sorry indeed to see you here. We feel you have done this thoughtlessly, and we hope you will never do it again," said the Chairman (Mr. H. Brodrick) at Southport, today, in binding over for 12 months Ethel James (29), no fixed address, who pleaded guilty to stealing a silver tea set, a silver egg cruet, a silver battery set, six pairs of silver and pearl knives and forks, two nut crackers, a clock, two silver service rings, a butter knife, a cruet set, two silver and glass salt cellars, four coffee spoons, sugar tongs, sugar and cream basins, two glass salt cellars, a Chinese tea set, a four-piece dessert service, and a silver cigarette case of the total value of £37 14s., the property of Mrs. F. R. Hossack, widow, of Melling-road, Southport.

Superintendent Clarke said James was employed by Mrs Hossack as a nurse for a fortnight in February, this year. After leaving she called to see Mrs. Hossack several times. On April 20th Mrs. Hossack made a search of the house and found that the articles enumerated in the charge were missing. They were subsequently found in accused's possession.

James told the Bench she had been ill and depressed for more than 18 months. She had been supporting a younger sister who was at school studying for a university degree. "I was bewildered and did not know how to collect the fees. I don't say that is why I did it but it must have been. I just can't explain." She added that she was planning to try and return the articles anonymously.

Supt. Clarke said accused was born in Scotland and was trained as a nurse. She had worked in institutions and was engaged by private people. There was no record against her, and her present employer was willing to take her back.

LEAVING MORECAMBE

Rev. D. W. Lowis Accepts Plymouth Invitation

Well-known in the district for his challenging addresses, the Rev. D. W. Lowis, of the West End Methodist Church, Morecambe, and circuit superintendent, has accepted an invitation to become superintendent minister at the Kingstreet, Circuit, Plymouth.

Plymouth is separated into two circuits, and Dr. Lowis will have special charge of a church in the northern end of the town. He will take up his new duties in September, 1937, when he will have completed a six years' stay in Morecambe.

Before coming to Morecambe he ministered in Bradford, before which he was at Leeds.

Junior Instruction Centres in Cumberland

Cumberland Education Committee will consider at their meeting in Whitehaven on Friday a report on the establishment of junior instruction centres.

The Committee state that in the Maryport area they could secure suitable premises suitable for incorporation in a comprehensive scheme. In Egremont, however, no premises are available.

At Workington the purchase of the Duke-street Mission premises upon suitable terms is advised, and at Whitehaven the Tweed Mill is recommended for boys. A building for girls service was considered but failing this it is suggested that a wooden structure be erected. At Cleator Moor, Arlecdon, Egremont and Thornhill, separate centres are advised.

Keswick Conventioner Killed in Crash

The funeral took place at Keswick yesterday of Mr. Douglas Porter, general secretary of the Pagan General Mission, who had been attending the Keswick Convention, and who was killed when his car collided with a lorry at Lonsdale Bridge, Brough, while on his way home to London. His son, Mr. Keith Porter, was injured in a Cumberland Infirmary.

The funeral was attended by a large company of Conventioners, including the chairman of the trustees, Mr. J. M. Waite, Manchester. The service was conducted by a Conventioner speaker, the Rev. W. W. Martin, Croydon, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Gough, Carlisle.

LEYLAND SCHOOLBOYS' TIE

The semi-final in the Leyland and District Schoolboys' cricket competition for the Hollin's Cup, between Leyland Senior School (Yellow House) and Leyland Senior School (Green House), at Leyland, last night, ended in a tie, Yellow House made 65 (Moxon 29, Bullivant seven wickets for 27). Green House scored 65 for five wickets, only for the last five wickets to fall without a single run being added. Wilkinson took five wickets for 22 and Moxon three for 20.

LEGIONARIES BACK FROM GERMANY

Ex-Service Men and Peace

THE British Legion Delegation which has spent ten days in Germany at the invitation of the ex-Service organisations in that country, returned to London to-day. They were greatly impressed with the warmth of their welcome and declared that one of their outstanding impressions was that in Germany there is a genuine desire on all sides for a better understanding and friendship with this country.

"The Germans and ourselves hope that ex-Service men in Britain and Germany but also in France will work together in the cause of peace," said Major Fetherston-Godley, chairman of the British Legion and a member of the deputation to a Reuters reporter. "The state of affairs in Germany differs, I think, very much from some of the impressions held in England and to dispel these impressions it definitely requires a visit, and first-hand knowledge."

YOUTH MOVEMENT

Major Fetherston-Godley added that the delegation were greatly impressed by the youth movement in Germany. "From what we saw of it," he said, "we think it is on some militaristic. They do physical drill, but there is no military drill of any sort. They do not carry weapons and it does excellent work in keeping young people fit. We hope that as a result of our visit we shall be able to arrange an exchange of visits between the children of ex-Service men in both countries. That will go far to promote an understanding of each other, which is so essential to-day. We hope also there will in the near future be an official visit from members of ex-Service men to study the organisation of the British Legion, and also affairs in England. The sooner that visit is paid the better, because there is no doubt that there are a lot of people in Germany who are in entire ignorance of England and English people."

Herr Hitler impressed him as a practical idealist. Most of their conversation was devoted to a chat on war time activities on the Western Front, and also to the welfare of ex-Service men. "Herr Hitler said most definitely that the ex-Service men should come together to assist in ensuring peace."

STATION SCENE

Blackburn Man's Assault at Blackpool

"These railway servants have a difficult task, and they have to have the patience of Job," said the Stipendiary (Mr. H. E. Denham) at Blackpool, today, in a case in which Herbert Walsh (53), a labourer, of Hornby-street, Blackburn, was fined 20s. for being drunk and disorderly on Central Railway Station, last night, and 20s. for assaulting Railway Constable Garrod. He denied the charges.

Garrod said that when the accused asked him if he had seen his little daughter, whom he had lost, and accused him of having taken her away at King-street Police Station. Accused then said to him, "I pay your wages for you to run after me, and not me after you." Witness again advised him what to do. Walsh, who was drunk, thereupon suddenly struck him twice on the head.

Another railway constable gave evidence, and P.S. Burrows said that when brought in Walsh was "awkward drunk."

OVER A PRECIPICE

Debutante's Skull Fractured in Italy

A famous London brain specialist has been called to Como, Italy, where 18-year-old Jeyce Kingscote, a 1935 debutante, is in critical condition ill with a fractured skull after a fall down a 60ft. precipice.

Her father, Captain Maurice John Kingscote, of Sherston, near Swindon, Master of the V.W.H. (Cricklade) Pack, accompanied by his wife, chartered an aeroplane from Croydon and flew straight to Como, on Monday. The latest news is that Miss Kingscote is still seriously ill. An operation has been performed.

Miss Kingscote was out walking when she missed her footing, rolled down a steep slope and fell over the precipice.

Preston Swimmers at Nelson

At a swimming gala at the Nelson Corporation Baths, last night, Z. Grant, of South Manchester, won the Northern Counties junior women's 100 yards championship in 1min. 4·5sec. M. Perkins, of Carlisle, was second, and A. Ellis, Wallasey, third. Among the 18 competitors was a Preston girl, E. Lincoln, who swam well in the final, but failed to qualify for the final.

Nelson and Preston were in opposition in a number of events, the chief of which was a relay match which was won by the Nelson team by three goals to one. Barker and Tempest scored for Nelson in the first half. Defending the shallow end in the second half Preston replied through Bell, but Hartley put the issue beyond doubt in the closing stages.

Nelson were also successful in both the women's and men's squadron races. Other events resulted as follows:—Women: 50 yards breast stroke, Preston; 50 yards back stroke, Nelson; 50 yards free style, Nelson; 100 yards free style, Preston.

Men: 50 yards breast stroke, Preston; 50 yards back stroke, Nelson; 50 yards free style, Nelson; 100 yards free style, Preston.

Birkdale Motorist's Successful Defence

"I have been motoring since 1910 and will celebrate my motoring jubilee next month. I have never had a conviction and have never run any body, and I have covered an average of 25,000 miles a year since 1923," said George Berry, Hillside-road, Birkdale, who pleaded not guilty at Southport to-day to exceeding the 30 mile an hour speed limit in Liverpool-road, Ainsdale, at 11 5 p.m. on June 29th.

Evidence was given that the defendant's speed was from 37 to 40 miles an hour.

Berry said that his speedometer registered about 30 miles an hour.

Mr. Cunliffe, who defended, said no motorist could claim a better record than Berry. "He is approaching his silver jubilee of careful and trouble-free driving, and in view of his wonderful record I ask you to give him the benefit of the doubt."

The Bench dismissed the case.

OFFERS FOR BLACKPOOL PLAYERS

£7,000 Mentioned

BLACKPOOL F.C. to-day again made it plain that they have refused a large offer for the services of Wallace, their goalkeeper, and Dobson, their Irish international inside forward.

The club, I understand, writes "Hermes," have received more than one large offer from League clubs to carry through such a transfer, and a London club were prepared to pay £7,000 at least for both these players.

Now Derby County have repeated their offer, which involves a large sum, but have been told that it would be useless to continue negotiations.

Wallace joined Blackpool from Raith Rovers in February, 1934, and Doherty, who twice played for Ireland last season in inter-league games, came from Glentoran nearly two years ago.

The Blackpool club have arranged that for next season the "A" team, members of the Manchester Amateur League, shall play their Saturday matches at Bloomfield Road, Blackpool. Last season the team played on the Deepdale ground, but this was found to be inconvenient owing to the question of expense and difficulties in travelling, and a subcommittee of the club has been looking for a ground more conveniently placed. As a result of this the young professionals on the staff will be able to play each week instead of only occasionally, and officials will have an opportunity of looking out for junior talent.

SPINDLES BILL

Disappointment of Trade Leaders

(From our Correspondent on 'Change)

The official announcement that the second reading of the Surplus Spindles Bill will not be taken until the autumn session of Parliament has caused a good deal of disappointment among the leaders of the trade, but even if the bill had been read on Friday it could not have been made law until two or three months time.

Interviewed to-day a member of the Colwyn Drafting Committee said, "It is, of course, unfortunate that the second reading of the bill has been deferred until the autumn session, but we have the promise that it will be the first business of the Government when Parliament reassembles, and in any case the slight delay in the second reading will in no way interfere with the actual date of operation, for we contemplate that the proposals would be put into operation in the autumn. The delay in the second reading therefore is not a matter of great importance."
